No learner left behind - no school left behind

The role of school governors

Updated 26 April

The conference, aimed at headteachers, chairs of governors, governor leads and senior leaders provides an opportunity to:

- Hear from Estelle Morris, Baroness Morris of Yardley, and chair of Birmingham Education Partnership on the power of ethical leadership and collective endeavour in making a difference to the life chances of children and young people
- Consider what belonging to ELP means for individual schools and the potential longer term benefits of being part of this collaborative; sharing success and working together on common challenge
- Consider also what matters most in designing your curriculum and why marketing matters?

Afternoon session added

In response to governors request to have more opportunities to share information, we have added a new learning conversation session for the afternoon 1.45-3.30pm.

The focus of the session will be on the role of governance in, setting 'strategic direction.' For this section there is some preparatory work required. Full details of this can be found on CPD online.

A copy of the updated agenda and the learning conversation outline for participants are attached as downloads and available via CPD online.

Cost

£100 per delegate (ELP schools); £140 per delegate (non ELP school)

Book online
