

Allegations against staff and volunteers (ASV)

Local authority designated officer (LADO)

Every local authority has a local authority designated officer (LADO) to whom allegations must be reported and with whom plans should be made about how matters are progressed.

The LADO is a senior member of staff who:

- Is involved in the management and oversight of individual cases which meet a certain threshold
- Provides advice and guidance to employers and voluntary organisations
- Liaises with the police and other agencies
- Monitors the progress of cases to ensure they are dealt with as quickly as possible, following a consistent, thorough and fair process.

Though allegations of abuse can be made to anyone in an organisation it is the role of the designated safeguarding lead (DSL) to take these forward and to be the link between the organisation and the LADO until the matter is resolved.

Allegations against the DSL should be referred to the headteacher, or if against the headteacher to the chair of governors.
