

ELP assistant and deputy head teachers' annual conference

For primary and special school deputy and assistant headteachers

This session is free to ELP schools and includes lunch.

Date and time 21 February 2024, 9am- 3pm

Location Ealing Trailfinders, Vallis Way, W13 0DD, parking available

Focus We will engage in key priorities aligned to the ELP vision of 'No Learner Left Behind' and 'No School Left Behind' and 'Collaboration and innovation with schools.'

Topics:

- Race equality
- An introduction to ELP's Spirals of enquiry handbook.

9.15-10.30am Orlene Badu, Leadership and ELP's racial literacy lead, keynote speaker

What will your legacy be?

Orlene Badu is a former headteacher, education and racial literacy consultant, and an author.

Attendees will get a free copy of Orlene's book, 'How to build your anti-racist classroom'

10.30-11.30am Krystal Rubie, ELP curriculum and racial literacy lead, keynote speaker

How the curriculum contributes to your legacy

With two decades of classroom experience, and having founded her project Young People Aspire Higher, Krystal draws upon her passion for raising aspirations of young people using Black history to develop racial literacy in education.

Krystal supports schools to develop and enhance their curriculums to further engage, serve and inspire all children and young people.

11.30am-12.15pm Petts Hill Primary School's Race Equality journey, followed by table discussion on your race equality journey and legacy.

12.15-12.45pm Lunch

NAHT will have a stand at this event.

12.45-1.30pm Dean Pymble, Campaign manager for Wales, Show racism the red card. Dean's work has focused on addressing racial equity through the education system, sport, and within the workplace.

SHOW RACISM THE RED CARD

1.45-3pm Clare Rees will introduce the 'Spirals of Enquiry' handbook- developing pupil and teacher agency and links to the ELP Innovation Hub

How to book

You can book a place via Ealing CPD Online

No learner left behind - no school left behind