

School Before and School Now

Changes may have happened in your life, either at home or school recently. Why have these changes happened? If you're not sure, which trusted grown-up could you ask?

Use the grid below to draw a picture of life in school before and a picture of life in school now. What things are different? What things are the same?

When you have finished, write your feelings about school before and school now on the lines around the grid.
